

MONAX

INDUSTRIES

Overview

A decentralized platform for contracts

The Monax platform is an open platform for anyone to create, prove, and operate legal agreements backed by the certainty of blockchain and smart contract-based evidence and processes.

What's the platform for?

Any legal contracts in the modern, networked economy.

Some use cases could be corporate governance agreements, equipment fleet leases and content creation agreements.

Who's the platform for?

Businesses can use digitized agreements to reduce legal spend, control risk, and make better deals faster.

Lawyers can use digitized agreement templates to achieve global scale via technologically repeatable processes to increase their revenue.

Key features

Legally compliant

Fast creation

Legal spend reduction

Risk control

Scalable and reusable

Clarity and certainty

To find out more, request a demo at demo@monax.io